Dear Parents/Carers,

Geography Fieldtrip to Iceland (5 days, 4 nights) Saturday 13th to Wednesday 17th February 2021

I am delighted to be able to offer a fantastic international fieldwork opportunity for those currently studying Geography in Years 9 to 12, to visit and explore Southern Iceland, flying from London to Reykjavik, with educational tour operator Eduventure Travel in February Half Term 2021. NB: The dates are provisional, and may change slightly to achieve the best price once flights are released.

The trip includes all flights, full board accommodation and daily guided tours of Southern Iceland. The itinerary includes 5 days of activities including; a tour of the capital Reykjavik, a chance to bathe in the Blue Lagoon geothermal spa, the Rift Valley of Thingvellir (where the N. American and Eurasian Tectonic Plates are pulling apart), spectacular waterfalls of Gullfoss and Skogafoss, hexagonal basalt cliffs at Reynishverfi, the Solheimajokull glacier, geothermal farming at the Hveragerdi Centre and the newly formed hot springs from the 2008 Olfus earthquake, the Strokkur geyser and of course the Lava Centre showcasing the Eyjafjallajökul volcano which erupted in 2010, and more!

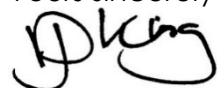

The cost will depend on how much interest we have and are subject to flight bookings. Flights are not released until March 2020, and prices may be lower than estimated.

Student Numbers	Estimated Cost (subject to flight confirmation)
Minimum 20-24	£1,180
25+	£1,095
The trip may be feasible with less than 20 students subject to the release of flight costs or could be reduced to a 4 day option.

Please note the trip does not include transfers to London airports (which will be booked at additional cost once numbers confirmed), spending money or lunch on day one.

Once numbers (and prices are confirmed) deposits will be payable in March to secure a place.

Yours sincerely

Mrs J King
